3 withdrawal of cardiopulmonary resuscitation from a patient who, in 4 reasonable medical judgment, has a terminal or irreversible

6 provide resuscitation if, in reasonable medical judgment, in the 7 event of cardiopulmonary arrest, the patient's death would occur 8 within minutes to hours regardless of the provision of 9 resuscitation. Nothing in this section may be construed to limit 10 the authority of a physician, nurse, or other person to comply with 11 an otherwise valid and applicable patient's directive to physicians 12 or out-of-hospital do-not-resuscitate order, or the decision of a 13 competent patient or the person responsible for the health care

7 the patient unless ordered to do so under Subsection (g).

8 (e-1) If during a previous admission to a facility a 9 patient's attending physician and the review process under 10 Subsection (b) have determined that life-sustaining treatment is 11 inappropriate, and the patient is readmitted to the same facility

13 review process conducted upon the previous admission, Subsections 14 (b) through (e) need not be followed if the patient's attending 15 physician and a consulting physician who is a member of the ethics

23 TRANSFER. (a) In cases in which the attending physician refuses 24 to honor an advance directive or treatment decision requesting the 25 provision of life-sustaining treatment, the statement required by 26 Section 166.046(b)(2)(A) shall be in substantially the following 27 form:

1 When There Is A Disagreement About Medical Treatment: The Physician
2 Recommends Against Life-Sustaining Treatment That You Wish To 3 Continue

4 You have been given this information because you have 5 requested life-sustaining treatment,* which the attending 6 physician believes is not appropriate. This information is being 7 provided to help you understand state law, your rights, and the 8 resources available to you in such circumstances. It outlines the 9 process for resolving disagreements about treatment among 10 patients, families, and physicians. It is based upon Section 11 166.046 of the Texas Advance Directives Act, codified in Chapter 12 166 of the Texas Health and Safety Code.

13 When an attending physician refuses to comply with an advance 14 directive or other request for life-sustaining treatment because of 15 the physician's judgment that the treatment would be inappropriate, 16 he or she will request that the case be reviewed by an ethics or 17 medical committee. Life-sustaining treatment will be provided 18 through the review.

19 You will receive notification of this review at least 48
20 hours before a meeting of the committee related to your case. You 21 are entitled to attend the meeting. With your agreement, the 22 meeting may be held sooner than 48 hours, if possible.

23 If you wish, you are entitled to receive a written
24 explanation of the decision reached during the review process.

25 If after this review process both the attending physician and 26 the ethics or medical committee conclude that life-sustaining 27 treatment is inappropriate and yet you continue to request such

1 treatment, then the following procedure will occur:

2 1. The physician, with the help of the health care facility,
3 will assist you in trying to find a physician and facility willing 4 to provide the requested treatment.

5 2. You are being given a list of health care providers and 6 referral groups that have volunteered their readiness to consider 7 accepting transfer, or to assist in locating a provider willing to 8 accept transfer, maintained by the Texas Health Care Information
9 Council. You may wish to contact providers or referral groups on 10 the list or others of your choice to get help in arranging a
11 transfer.

12 3. The patient will continue to be given the requested 13 life-sustaining treatment until he or she can be transferred to a 14 willing provider for up to 10 days from the time you were given the 15 committee's written decision that life-sustaining treatment is not 16 appropriate.

17 4. If a transfer can be arranged, the patient will be 18 responsible for the costs of the transfer.

19 5. If a provider cannot be found willing to give the 20 requested treatment within 10 days, life-sustaining treatment may 21 be withdrawn on the 11th day unless a court of law has granted an 22 extension.

23 6. You may ask the appropriate district or county court to 24 extend the 10-day period if the court finds that there is a 25 reasonable expectation that a physician or health care facility 26 willing to provide life-sustaining treatment will be found if the 27 extension is granted. You will probably need a lawyer's help if you

1 wish to consider seeking this type of extension.

2 * "Life-sustaining treatment" means treatment that, based on
3 reasonable medical judgment, sustains the life of a patient and
4 without which the patient will die. The term includes both 5 life-sustaining medications and artificial life support, such as 6 mechanical breathing machines, kidney dialysis treatment, and 7 artificial nutrition and hydration. The term does not include the 8 administration of pain management medication or the performance of 9 a medical procedure considered to be necessary to provide comfort
10 care, or any other medical care provided to alleviate a patient's
11 pain.

12 (b) In cases in which the attending physician refuses to 13 comply with an advance directive or treatment decision requesting 14 the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment, the 15 statement required by Section 166.046(b)(2)(A) shall be in 16 substantially the following form:

17 When There Is A Disagreement About Medical Treatment: The Physician
18 Recommends Life-Sustaining Treatment That You Wish To Stop

19 You have been given this information because you have 20 requested the withdrawal or withholding of life-sustaining 21 treatment* and the attending physician refuses to comply with that 22 request. The information is being provided to help you understand 23 state law, your rights, and the resources available to you in such 24 circumstances. It outlines the process for resolving disagreements 25 about treatment among patients, families, and physicians. It is 26 based upon Section 166.046 of the Texas Advance Directives Act, 27 codified in Chapter 166 of the Texas Health and Safety Code.

1 When an attending physician refuses to comply with an advance
2 directive or other request for withdrawal or withholding of 3 life-sustaining treatment for any reason, he or she will request 4 that the case be reviewed by an ethics or medical committee.
5 Life-sustaining treatment will be provided through the review.

6 You will receive notification of this review at least 48
7 hours before a meeting of the committee related to your case. You
8 are entitled to attend the meeting. With your agreement, the 9 meeting may be held sooner than 48 hours, if possible.

10 If you wish, you are entitled to receive a written
11 explanation of the decision reached during the review process.

12 If you or the attending physician do not agree with the 13 decision reached during the review process, and the attending 14 physician still refuses to comply with your request to withhold or 15 withdraw life-sustaining treatment, then the following procedure 16 will occur:

17 1. The physician, with the help of the health care facility,
18 will assist you in trying to find a physician and facility willing 19 to withdraw or withhold the life-sustaining treatment.

20 2. You are being given a list of health care providers and 21 referral groups that have volunteered their readiness to consider 22 accepting transfer, or to assist in locating a provider willing to
23 accept transfer, maintained by the Texas Health Care Information
24 Council. You may wish to contact providers or referral groups on 25 the list or others of your choice to get help in arranging a
26 transfer.

27 * "Life-sustaining treatment" means treatment that, based on

1 reasonable medical judgment, sustains the life of a patient and
2 without which the patient will die. The term includes both
3 life-sustaining medications and artificial life support, such as 4 mechanical breathing machines, kidney dialysis treatment, and
5 artificial nutrition and hydration. The term does not include the 6 administration of pain management medication or the performance of 7 a medical procedure considered to be necessary to provide comfort
8 care, or any other medical care provided to alleviate a patient's 9 pain.

10 (c) An attending physician or health care facility may, if 11 it chooses, include any additional information concerning the 12 physician's or facility's policy, perspective, experience, or 13 review procedure.

14 Sec. 166.053. REGISTRY TO ASSIST TRANSFERS. (a) The Texas
15 Health Care Information Council shall maintain a registry listing 16 the identity of and contact information for health care providers 17 and referral groups, situated inside and outside this state, that 18 have voluntarily notified the council they may consider accepting 19 or may assist in locating a provider willing to accept transfer of a 20 patient under Section 166.045 or 166.046.

21 (b) The listing of a provider or referral group in the 22 registry described in this section does not obligate the provider 23 or group to accept transfer of or provide services to any particular 24 patient.

25 (c) The Texas Health Care Information Council shall post the 26 current registry list on its website in a form appropriate for easy 27 comprehension by patients and persons responsible for the health

1 care decisions of patients and shall provide a clearly identifiable 2 link from its home page to the registry page. The list shall 3 separately indicate those providers and groups that have indicated 4 their interest in assisting the transfer of:

5 (1) those patients on whose behalf life-sustaining
6 treatment is being sought;

7 (2) those patients on whose behalf the withholding or 8 withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment is being sought; and 9 (3) patients described in both Subdivisions (1) and 10 (2).

11 (d) The registry list described in this section shall 12 include the following disclaimer:

13 "This registry lists providers and groups
14 that have indicated to the Texas Health Care 15 Information Council their interest in 16 assisting the transfer of patients in the 17 circumstances described, and is provided 18 for information purposes only. Neither the 19 Texas Health Care Information Council nor 20 the State of Texas endorses or assumes any 21 responsibility for any representation, 22 claim, or act of the listed providers or 23 groups."

24 SECTION 7. Subchapter C, Chapter 166, Health and Safety
25 Code, is amended by adding Section 166.102 to read as follows:

26 Sec. 166.102. PHYSICIAN'S DNR ORDER MAY BE HONORED BY 27 HEALTH CARE PERSONNEL OTHER THAN EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

1 PERSONNEL. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b), a licensed 2 nurse or person providing health care services in an 3 out-of-hospital setting may honor a physician's do-not-resuscitate 4 order.

5 (b) When responding to a call for assistance, emergency 6 medical services personnel shall honor only a properly executed or 7 issued out-of-hospital DNR order or prescribed DNR identification 8 device in accordance with this subchapter.

9 SECTION 8. Section 166.081(1), Health and Safety Code, is 10 repealed.

11 SECTION 9. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives 12 a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as 13 provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this 14 Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this 15 Act takes effect September 1, 2003.
